The National Natural Toxins Research Center at Texas A&M University-Kingsville is discovering how snake venoms can treat pain, cancer, diabetes and cardiovascular diseases.

Venomous snakes have an arsenal of toxins in their venoms. While these toxins can create medical emergencies when humans are envenomated, these same molecules once purified, characterized and cloned could have therapeutic value in treating strokes, heart attacks, preventing the metastasis of tumors and many other medical conditions.

“The NNTRC is dedicated to the advancement in the understanding of the therapeutic value of venom molecules and the training of research scientists, graduate, undergraduate, and high school students in the field of toxinology.” -Dr. Elda Sánchez

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT & CHAIR

President Mark A. Hussey

This year was one of tremendous achievement for Texas A&M University-Kingsville, and this annual report serves as a testament to the undeniable impact that the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Foundation has had in that success.

This year's highlights include receiving the largest gift in our institution's history – a land bequest estimated at over $19 million that will provide graduate students of the King Ranch® Institute for Ranch Management valuable, hands-on experience. We also had the opportunity to honor a beloved, longtime professor who left his estate to the university, ensuring that our Veterinary Technology students would have optimal opportunities to excel. Generosity and selfless service continue to allow us to pursue our vital mission of enriching the lives of our students through education and discovery.

The relationship between the Texas A&M-Kingsville Foundation and the university is rooted in a shared vision that focuses on the advancement of our students and the impact of our institution on the region. Core values such as integrity, excellence and service shape the student experience on our campus. Texas A&M University-Kingsville is dedicated to developing the next generation of leaders, innovators and educators.

We know that this is not something we accomplish alone.

We were fortunate to begin 2020 with the announcement that we have surpassed our $100 million goal in private support through With You. Without Limits. The Campaign for Texas A&M University-Kingsville. Meeting the campaign's goal, 20 months ahead of schedule, ensures the needs of our students are being met and equips our faculty and staff with necessary resources for both inside and outside of the classroom.

But our work is far from over. As the campaign continues through August 2021, we are eager to build on that momentum. We will remain on track with the With You. Without Limits campaign to continue the good work that has already been done.

We know that philanthropy provides a margin of excellence that enables our university to recruit and retain the best faculty, staff and students, and we remain grateful to each of you for your continued support and generosity.

JOSEPH LOPEZ CIVIL ENGINEERING

“Receiving scholarships does more than grant someone money, it grants access and time to pursue opportunity. With opportunity comes new advancements and a future to become anything you want to be. Scholarships have granted me time for internships, clubs here on campus, intramural sports activities and have helped me to further my goals of becoming a civil engineer.”

BETHANY VASQUEZ ACCOUNTING

“I am so grateful for the financial support I have received from Javelina Scholarships. Because of my scholarship donors, I know someone cares about my scholarly journey. Their generosity has taught me to value my education and inspires me to help my community. During my time at TAMUK, I have volunteered as a tax preparer for the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program and a reading mentor to elementary students. I have been able to become closer to the world by expanding my reach to the community. I will forever appreciate this opportunity and hope to spread the same kindness to others throughout my life.”

Without Limits.

The Campaign for Texas A&M University-Kingsville®

The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Foundation has raised more than $100 million in private support through its comprehensive capital campaign, With You. Without Limits. The Campaign for Texas A&M University-Kingsville. Continuing until Aug. 31, 2021, With You. Without Limits has exceeded its goal 20 months ahead of schedule as dedicated supporters of Texas A&M University-Kingsville continue to propel the university's opportunities of excellence for students, faculty and staff.

"This is an incredible milestone in the history of our university," stated Dr. Mark A. Hussey, President of Texas A&M University-Kingsville. "That this campaign has exceeded its goal 20 months ahead of schedule is a testament to the vision and spirit of philanthropy of our supporters, alumni and friends. The successes of the With You. Without Limits. campaign ensures that Texas A&M University-Kingsville will continue to strive for excellence in research, academics and more. I would like to express my gratitude to all who have made reaching this goal possible and am looking forward to building on the campaign's momentum."

Reaching this monumental goal would not have been possible without the steadfast effort of the Campaign Cabinet, a carefully-crafted volunteer group consisting of 13 dedicated members who have ensured the accomplishment of the campaign since its inception. With You. Without Limits. began counting during the university's 2014 fiscal year and was publicly launched in April 2018.

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY-KINGSVILLE FOUNDATION SURPASSES

$100M CAMPAIGN GOAL

The late Dr. Drewey "Wayne" Gunn, Professor Emeritus of Texas A&M University-Kingsville, left a tremendous gift to the university - his estate, estimated at $1.3 million, given entirely in honor of Dr. Gunn's parents, Josephine "Jo" and Bruce Gunn. Close family, friends, colleagues and Dr. Gunn's beloved dog, Joey, gathered to honor his gift to the university at the Veterinary Technology building on campus in October 2019.

“The Campaign Cabinet is a very committed group of community leaders who have worked diligently to meet this campaign goal and ensure the future success of Texas A&M-Kingsville,” remarked Gene Dawson Jr., Campaign Chair. “While we are thrilled that we have passed the goal ahead of schedule, our campaign is not finished. We want to keep going to provide this university with the best possible resources for its students, faculty and staff. We are grateful for the alumni and friends of Texas A&M-Kingsville that have joined the effort and look forward to accomplishing even more in this campaign moving forward.”

With the generosity of the holiday season now accounted for, the campaign tallies $100,915,988 in gifts and commitments, with 4,970 alumni, faculty, students and friends of the university donating and participating in the effort.

Dedicated donor and alumnus, Dr. Tom Russell, has generously given to Texas A&M-Kingsville for several decades. At the end of December 2019, Dr. Russell contributed $80,000 toward the Ralph C. Russell Accounting Scholarship Endowment, which was the last cash gift made to the Foundation for the calendar year. That substantial gift is responsible for exceeding the $100 Million benchmark and joins a plethora of support he has given toward Texas A&M-Kingsville in honor of his father, Ralph Russell, who was a longtime beloved professor of accounting at our university.

“Donating gives a more ready source of funds to the university and its people, associations and groups so that when they want to do something, they don’t have to wait to accomplish what it is they need to do,” stated Dr. Russell. “I taught for 15 years and saw the difficulty with administration being unable to provide funding quickly toward ideas. I’m glad that alumni and local businesses are being educated on just what their donations can do for the university.”

Dr. Russell also believes that by giving, he can impact the accounting program in its ability to produce the high caliber education that he fondly remembers during his father’s tenure with the department, with students earning remarkable success in their careers post-graduation.

Join Dr. Russell in making a difference in the lives of current students and help solidify the future success of Texas A&M University-Kingsville. # TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY-KINGSVILLE FOUNDATION TO RECEIVE $19M BEQUEST

LARGEST IN UNIVERSITY'S HISTORY

The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Foundation announced, with gratitude, the largest singular gift from an individual in the university's almost 100-year history. The $19.5 million bequest is also the leading commitment to date for the university's first comprehensive fundraising campaign, With You. Without Limits. The Campaign for Texas A&M University-Kingsville.

Given by an anonymous donor, the transformational gift will include more than 7,800 acres of Texas ranchland, presently valued at $16 million, plus $3.5 million in cash – all dedicated to King Ranch® Institute for Ranch Management (KRIRM).

“Texas A&M University-Kingsville is honored to receive this tremendous gift that will have a significant impact on the King Ranch® Institute for Ranch Management. Through this donor’s immense generosity, our students, faculty and researchers will be able to expand the work to which they are committed, managing our nation’s range and wildlife and preserving our rich ranching tradition. A historic gift of this nature reflects a tremendous vision and spirit of philanthropy and we are incredibly grateful,” stated President of Texas A&M University-Kingsville, Dr. Mark A. Hussey.

This partnership will allow students pursuing a master’s degree through KRIRM the opportunity to conduct real-world case studies on land and animal management, including brush control, grazing management, livestock management, wildlife management and marketing. The investment of cash will establish an operations and management endowment that enables KRIRM to manage the ranch to support teaching, applied research, and outreach to ranching industry stakeholders according to the KRIRM mission. A portion of the planned gift will support the Veterinary Technology program at Texas A&M-Kingsville and provide scholarships for students attending veterinary school.

Texas A&M-Kingsville publicly launched its With You. Without Limits. campaign in April 2018. With this planned gift, donors have generously given $94.6 million, nearing the campaign goal of $100 million in private support. The university has recorded more than 19,000 gifts from more than 4,600 donors since the campaign’s inception, with each gift securing our university’s future while preserving and honoring its unique heritage as an integral part in the success of South Texas.

“On behalf of the Board of Trustees of Texas A&M-Kingsville Foundation, we are ecstatic about this donor’s investment in the university, and specifically the King Ranch® Institute for Ranch Management,” said Brad Walker, Vice President for Institutional Advancement and Foundation CEO. “We know that Texas A&M-Kingsville is without limits, but to achieve the university’s mission, it really does take the support of individual donors and alumni. This planned gift ensures a tremendous future for both the institute and the university.”

As the only Master of Science in Ranch Management program in the world, the King Ranch® Institute for Ranch Management educates the next generation of leaders in the ranching industry.

41 KRIRM graduates collectively manage:

- 4 million acres of ranchland and wildlife habitat
  - 151,000 head of breeding cows
  - 900 horses
  - 517 ranch employees

We’re very honored that someone has seen what we do and is willing to pass on something of theirs that’s so valuable and can be so important to our mission.”

-Dr. Clay Mathis, Director and Robert J. Kleberg, Jr. and Helen C. Kleberg Endowed Chair

FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES NEWEST TRUSTEES

For the first time in its almost 50-year history, the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Foundation announced a full roster with 21 members on its Board of Trustees. This announcement comes after the appointment of three new trustees: retired U.S. Air Force Col. Lisa Carrington Firmin, S. David Deanda Jr. and Alan Johnson.

(Ret.) Col. Lisa Carrington Firmin '79 serves as the Associate Vice President for Veteran and Military Affairs at the University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA). As the Founder, CEO and Consultant at Carrington Firmin LLC, she provides consulting and training services in the areas of leadership, veterans, transitions, and diversity and inclusion. During her military service, Col. Carrington Firmin held a multitude of leadership roles and received numerous awards, retiring as the Air Force's most senior ranking Latina officer.

S. David Deanda Jr. '83, '84 serves as the President of Lone Star National Bank, headquartered in McAllen, Texas. During his banking career, Deanda has served as a Loan Officer, Chief Operations Officer and First Vice President for several banking institutions in the South Texas region, until he was ultimately hired at Lone Star National Bank in 1993 as its Executive Vice President.

Alan Johnson '71 served in the U.S. Army as a Military Police Corps Captain from 1972-1976. After his military service, he joined a Harlingen bank as a loan officer, eventually retiring as the president and regional manager of a large southern bank after an over 30-year banking career. He then assumed the role of President and CEO of the Valley Baptist Medical (Legacy) Foundation, growing their assets from $20 million to more than $300 million by his retirement only three years later.

HINOJOSA FAMILY HONORS PARENTS THROUGH PLANNED GIFT

Siblings Alvaro "Al" Hinojosa '77 and Dr. Magdalena "Maggie" Hinojosa '91, '97 contribute their success in life to two things: their encouraging, loving parents and one-of-a-kind education gained at our university. Feeling compelled to give back to future generations of Javelinas, Maggie and Al and his wife, Alice, each named the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Foundation as the beneficiary of a life insurance policy.

"My parents were always very giving and really brought us up to give back. But even more importantly, they did not have a college education, and Mom didn't even have a high school education, but they instilled the value of education in us. So in their honor, and as one of the greatest tributes we could give them, we are giving back in the form of providing education to others," stated Maggie. (Continued on next page.)

THE JAVELINA SOCIETY

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY-KINGSVILLE

INCLUDE THE STUDENTS OF TAMUK IN YOUR ESTATE

The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Foundation is capable of receiving a wide variety of assets depending upon philanthropic goals. Often a donor only considers income when envisioning the investment they are capable and comfortable making. Each donor’s circumstance is unique and a careful review of your assets, family and life obligations, and potential tax benefits can reveal the true level of impact you can provide students.

The Javelina Society honors alumni, faculty and friends who have made provisions in their estate plans naming the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Foundation as a beneficiary.

The Hinojosas’ support highlights the unique ability to honor and pay tribute to someone - or multiple someones - through planned giving. It also creates a legacy of generosity that reaches across an infinite number of generations, greatly impacting the future students of Texas A&M University-Kingsville.

Al concluded, “Being a Javelina brings one word to mind: family. It’s a big family. It’s the relationships that are born through college and even afterwards, and the common purpose of the people I’ve dealt with who have also given back to our university. Knowing and understanding the students that Kingsville serves and the needs they have, hopefully we all at some point decide that it’s time to give back.”
